Terms and Conditions

Availability

The SAD500 Assistant CD product is available directly from Afour Intelligent Solutions, and can also be ordered through Keith Andrew Customs Coaching & Consulting.

Please note: Product version upgrades (when offered), site licenses, and volume discounts are also available.

Terms of Sale

All products are offered subject to the terms of the particular license agreement included with each product, and all sales are final. We offer functional demonstrations via Keith Andrew Customs Coaching & Consulting with whom you may discuss function and suitability for your needs before purchase.

SAD500 CD Package Information

If you order more than one licence, only 1 CD will be supplied accompanied by the appropriate number of licence keys. You will be sent an activation key once each licence is installed and you run it for the first time. This key is used to activate the SAD500 Assistant which will lock the installation to the PC.

Order Processing

Orders normally require 1 business day to process.

For your protection and ours, each incoming order is reviewed by a member of our sales team before processing. Only orders for which payment has been received into our bank account will be dispatched. This usually occurs within three business days of receipt of the incoming order. (Nights, weekends, and holidays are not included in this estimate.)
